Conspiracy to Obstrust Justice

Letter from City Manager & Council Demonstrates Conspiracy to Obstruct Justice.

On April 25, 2013 a Public Records Request was filed with the Beaumont Office of City Clerk for copies of March 2013 Statements from all Financial Institutions.

On May 2, 2013 Beaumont City Manager Alan Kapanicas replied to the Public Records Request stating: "Your request for 'statements' is too vague. Please clarify what 'statements' your are requesting."

The letter is signed by the City Manager and every Council Member was copied.

The Beaumont Internal Audit has been going on for several months. This is the 4th time a request for all financial statements has been made, but the 1st time the request was 'too vague'.

The State of California enacted the Public Records Act in 1968 with very specific regulations to control government corruption.

California Government Code 6253 (c ) Each agency, upon a request for a copy of records, shall, within 10 days from receipt of the request, determine whether the request, in whole or in part, seeks copies of disclosable public records in the possession of the agency and shall promptly notify the person making the request of the determination and the reasons therefor. In unusual circumstances, the time limit prescribed in this section may be extended by written notice by the head of the agency or his or her designee to the person making the request....No notice shall specify a date that would result in an extension for more than 14 days.

6253 (d) Nothing in this chapter shall be construed to permit an ## agency to delay or obstruct the inspection or coping of public records.

Refusing or delaying Public Record Requests is Obstruction of Justice. It is Conspiracy to Obstruct Justice for the City Manager to collaborate with Council to withhold Public Records.

California Government Code 6203: Every officer authorized by law to make or give any certification or other writing is guilty of a misdemeanor if he or she makes and delivers as true any certificate or writing containing statements which he or she know to be false.

The City Manager and every member of Council knows or should know that the letter is false information written to Obstruct Justice. Since the office of the city manager takes direction from council it stands to reason that it was Council that instructed the City Manager to take over the Office of the City Clerk and to.

The United States of America developed a democratic form of government so the People could govern themselves, but democracy is based on honesty and love of Country. Democracy does not account for human nature. Elected and Appointed Government Officials conspiring to circumvent the laws of their state and country for the purpose of ...'adhering to its enemies, or giving them aid and comfort.' is considered Treason.

The City of Beaumont is almost $300 Million in debt. The Federal Government is almost $17 Trillion in debt. It's time We The People stop accepting our situation as happenstance and start realizing that these are intentional acts that have no other results but to further the destruction of our Communities and Country.

Interesting, and I congratulate you on your commitment and grade point average. Not sure what you learned in accounting, though - you said administartion and counseling. What degree do you hold in accounting? I'm asking because I am a little concerned how the hours add up. If I read right you said 97 hours a week of work and then carried 18 - 21 units on top of that. Well, let's see how this "accounts" out. Ninety - seven hours a week equates to 14 hours a day working. Now we all know you had to get an average of 6 hours sleep a night to hang with it longterm like you said you have. There are already 20 hours out of your day. How much driving and meal time? Say an hour a day? That leaves us with 3 hours a day for your classes totaling 18 - 21 units. What about study? I'm sure to carry a 3.6 average you would have to do that for a couple hours. I need to move to Oklahoma - those 26 -28 hour days would let me get a lot more done than California here where we only have 24 hours.

Actually she goes under the alias "Wonder Woman!", caped crusader! I really didn't need to know this - it kind of makes me feel sorry for Judy - I don't know how long she has been paying you but I have been dealing with you for over two months and that means she has wasted $4500 of her money with no results that show any criminality or illegality. Nothing but unethical and questionable comments for her outlay. Oh well, maybe that's what she wants - it's her money.

Is she saying Obama called her a liar and a fraud here? Because I didn't at all - I don't have to - her own comments and rants do that.

Here we agree. When you stick to digging out figures and facts and leave the allegations and mud - slinging for when someone else proves illegality, you do good work. I've never said differently.

And I do have a question of my own that goes right along with your statement. Where are any of the attorneys that live in Beaumont. You are right, people (residents) should be stepping up.

 So out of all of the investigations you have conducted...not one person has been prosecuted, or even charged with a crime? I have to agree with Jeremaih in that your methods seem to do more harm than good. You've brought up many, many questionable issues that really need explaining, but your personal attacks and vitriol against not only city officials but anyone who questions your methods and/or findings overshadows anything that might be legitimate.

By the way, I noticed on your website that you claim any donations to you for conducting these "investigations/audits" are tax deductible as "services rendered". I'm a bit confused about that, as I don't believe you are a non-profit tax exempt entity. "Services Rendered" are not generally tax deductible, or we could all be deducting any labor that we pay for throughout the year for many things (auto repair, yard work, etc.). Would you care to explain how someone's donation to you is tax deductible under the IRS Publication 526?

'...as I don't believe you are a non-profit tax exempt entity....'

i'm not a non profit ...i'm a business entity.... non profits are only 50% deductible from taxes but a service is 100% deductible... it's a business expense ....deductible just like any other business expense .... if you have an auto in your business or have yard work done for your business it's a business expense...

First of all, Libi, donations to non-profits (Churches are a common example) are 100% deductible. Second, donating money to you for your city "audits" is NOT a business expense for any of us, in even the most exaggerated definition. Explain to me how anyone donating money to your cause is incurring a "business expense". You are mixing apples & oranges, donations & expenses...You are not providing a service related to their business, unless you are auditing their own business. Again, how does any of our "donations" qualify under IRS Publication 526 or IRS code 501?

it's called a bachelors' of science in business administration - accounting concentration....you don't have any education at all do you...? '...I'm asking because I am a little concerned how the hours add up. ...' no, you're calling me a liar and a fraud...again.... '...Now we all know you had to get an average of 6 hours sleep a night ...' i've never gotten 6 hours of sleep in my life...maybe 4 if i haven't slept in a couple days... i take a sheet of paper and list out the 7 days and 24 hours in the day....then i fill my week.... you 'schedule' yourself 50 hours/week to sleep and another 50 to 'relax' ...that's why you're not productive... you spent your life doing as little as possible...and spent my life doing as much as possible.... 100 hour workweeks is me in old age...when i was a kid i used really work a lot....for a while there were three days that i only had 2 hours to sleep so i would drive from job to job and sleep in the car and my manager woke me up 15 minutes before my shift started... no one ever regrets going for life....they only regret that they let life pass them by...

I am sorry that you have wasted your life and have nothing to show for it and didn't enjoy what you were doing. Didn't know you are a speed freak, but now that you mention it the signs are all there. Not sure how it was back then but in my day a bachelor's in business admin was kind of a catch-all you did to prepare for higher learning - and certainly you didn't have any classes in ethics. Call you a liar and a fraud - not me, I don't use those words and don't need to - your own words and way of being have done a better job than I could ever do of showing that. You reap what you sow, Libi. If you truly have a master's in counseling you would know that. I could address each and every thing you say, but it's obvious it is pointless. If you need me to go by and see if I can facilitate your records request, I will again take the time to do that. It would be Thursday before I could, though, and by that time you could certainly be specific and get your request started. I do want the information you are so good at digging out. I just don't want the wild accusations (or maybe not so wild) put before the fact-finding. With your obvious intelligence you would be a really interesting person to talk with if you would just get rid of that sourness that drives you. Have a good evening. Jeremiah

Once we got through all the drama, Libi did present some info on the Diners Card that suggests a problem. This as well as the purpose of Fund 39 are two legitimate questions I wish to ask of the city council and see if their answers match the facts. Maybe some actual citizens of Beaumont can attend the BCAT meeting as well to hear the answers so they can be reported from several perspectives.

Thank you for presenting some really serious information without the histrionics. These bond issues that almost every city has depended on are generally the root cause of cities going bankrupt. They very seldom are fully sold and don't bring in the money they are supposed to, but generally budgets treat them as if they are. Then since they haven't brought in the money they are supposed to, the bond debt service adds to the deficit rather than the bond reducing it. This is a main problem of the State and US financial system as well, and that is why the bond purchases by the fed are so scary. Good to see that employee expenses are down, but you are right - it isn't enough to move the bottom line from red to black. Thank you for raising a warning voice with no negative drama. As you said before, now it is up to the voting residents. Someone once said you can lead a horse to water but you can't make him drink.

Libi, there is a very easy way to shut me up. That is to do like you did in the posts below and present the facts of the audit without calling names and trying to insinuate corruption before it is proven. We all already have those suspicions - everyone in America suspects their governments - and your work is really important to prove or disprove it on the local level. But we need you to be objective and not biased before the fact. You might have missed it in all the drama, but I have not said one negative thing about your actual audits. Once again, my only complaint is the unethical way it is being combined with a smear campaign against people you have never met and don't know. Stick to the facts and you will have my support all they way. But all this other stuff clouds the issue and keeps people from focusing on what they need to see and hear. I agree with you - people in Beaumont are mostly apathetic with the exception of a few. Especially experienced legal people, from which we haven't heard a thing. I want to know why that is, and why they are silent when you have shown serious issues and the facts you show create valid questions. I will be silent or support you when you present facts in an ethical manner - but I will comment on every post that you do not. That is in an effort to create balance and let the quality of your work stand on it's own. Have a good night, Libi - thank you for trying even though we don't agree on how you do it.

You have too many people in your head because nobody said you were making up fake identities. (PS I have no financial debt the city of Beaumont does. My house has been for sale for a few months so I will be moving and it is QUITE likely the next city I move to will be in the same debt and have the same fat cats spending the same way) We cannot say anything about your "audit" because it is fragmented and all over the place. It is IMPOSSIBLE to see your "audit" because you did it in pieces and published it in pieces and did publish every last bit of information. (oops see there that is something I have been saying about your "audit" for a long time) As if you haven't attacked all of us at one time or another. You have called the women of our city "all of them look like men" You have called us "The citizens of Beaumont are lazy (or you have used the word stupid at times)" You have been the most unprofessional fake CPA I ever met.

Libi, you have yet to address the fact that you are claiming on your website that any donations to you are tax deductible, when they are NOT. You are not a non-profit so they are not a tax-deductible donation, and they are NOT a business expense unless you are doing MY business books. Care to explain, or just continue to attack those of us who were once behind you?

A person who is actively soliciting people to commit tax fraud? I disagree. And still no answer as to "why".....got it. Your refusal to answer the question says volumes about who you really are.

You have yet to actually prove anything, and your "audits/investigations" have never resulted in a single prosecution, but have instead caused many (including me) who support your efforts early on to eventually distance themselves due to your tactics. I believe it was Einstein who said that doing the same thing over and over expecting a different result is the very definition of insanity.
